IN TRENCHES AT 76

French Veteran of 1870 Is Doing His Share.

Corporal Surruque, Twelve Years Mayor of Auxerre, Is Still Hale and Hearty and Does His Bit Like the Others.

Paris.—The Paris Journal Officiel recently published the following honorable mention in army orders:

"Corporal Surruque, Charles, entered under No. 9,131, in company 9-2 T of the Sixth regiment of Engineers, second company of the corps, veteran soldier of 1870, chevalier of the Legion of Honor, enlisted as volunteer for the duration of the war at the age of seventy-six years, asked to go to the front as second sapper and miner, takes part without any physical weakness in all the work carried on day and night under fire of the enemy, animated with the highest conscientiousness and the most noble conception of his duty toward his country, and offers to his younger comrades a model discipline of duty and energy."

Seeing this description of the old young man a correspondent of the illustration of Paris set out for the front to find him. After wandering about the trenches in zigzag fashion the correspondent saw a rather small man with white beard and the insignia of an engineer on his cap. Remembering Stanley's description of how he met Livingstone in the heart of Africa and walked up to him, saying "Mr. Livingstone, I presume?" the correspondent accosted the engineer: "Corporal Surruque, are you not?"

The engineer was completely taken aback at the idea that anyone would want to interview him, but finally led the newspaper man into a subterranean shelter, which was very humid and from the roof of which large drops of water fell on the correspondent's notebook.

Asked how he kept so well, Corporal Surruque replied that he did it by walking. Having been occupied with work on country roads, a thirty-mile walk was nothing to him.

For twelve years before the war he had been mayor of Auxerre, in the department of the Yonne. Before that, as a civil engineer, he had been engaged in railroad construction and especially on the railway from Arras to Etaples, for which he offered the plans in 1872. That year he drove the first spade at the station of St. Pol-en-Ternoise, in the same place where forty-four years later he has come to handle the spade and pick as an ordinary sapper.

In 1871 he belonged to the army of Faidherbe and was captain of engineers engaged in constructing defense works in the valley of Scarpe. He was twice honorably mentioned then, once for having remained at his post when the other workers fled, fearing a German advance on Athies, near Arras, and again for having saved a wounded officer by carrying him to the rear.

In 1875 Mr. Surruque entered the service of public roads in the Dordogne, where he remained six years, and then took up the same kind of work in the Yonne for twenty years. Elected member of the municipal council of Auxerre, he soon became the leading man and was mayor of the town from 1900 to 1912. His administration of public roads and works caused him to be attached to the inspection department of the ministry of the interior.

Such was the civil career of this modest and brave man. When asked about his present service and whether his companions knew who he was, he said: "They don't know much about me and I am not going to tell them. I am Surruque, who does his bit of trench work like the rest, and that is all. These days what one has done in civil life doesn't count. Everybody is equal in the common effort. When a man has physical vigor which can be used there should be no hesitation."

"I passed the medical examination and they were forced to take me. Then I had three months of instruction in novelties which we knew nothing about in 1870 and in July left for the front. I took part in all the works of preparation for the drive in September and on October 1 I was named a corporal."

"The war cross which they have given to me surprised me, for I did nothing for that. I have done less than others who have been here since the beginning. I know they are decorating my years, but as my age does not count with me I am a little ashamed before my comrades."

"The only advantage of age is to have a little influence over the younger ones. When they grow impatient I tell them of 1870 and contrast it with what we have done today. We, who were not ready, have stopped at the Marne and the Yser an enemy superior in numbers and formidably organized. We have imposed on him our will. He has submitted to our law and when the time has come we will crush him!"

FINDS WATCH IN A SEWER

New Machine Brings It Out After It Had Been There Two Years.

Wichita, Kan.—A gold watch and fob were taken out of a sewer in the alley at the rear of the Coleman Lamp company's factory on North St. Francis avenue by the new sewer cleaning machine owned by the city. The works of the watch were rusted so that the parts fell out when the case was opened. Who is the owner of the watch is not known. It had been in the sewer for a couple of years, it is believed.

The new machine is the most modern apparatus that is in use for cleaning sewers and was purchased recently. It is constructed with two four-wheel trucks and each truck is equipped with 400 feet of cable. On the cables are the cups of five different sizes. The machine will remove brick, tin cans, dirt and other objects from the sewer.

WILD MAN IN MOUNTAINS

Has Long Hair and Beard and Clothes Himself in Strips of Cloth.

Sisson, Cal.—Down in Box Canyon, a wild and rugged spot through which the Sacramento flows on its way to the sea, a wild man has been seen, but only for a brief moment, as he quickly disappears on the approach of anyone.

One person who has seen him says that his hair is long enough to reach to his hips and a heavy growth of beard covers his face. His garments appeared to be of strips of blankets or sacks tied around his body, and his legs and feet were bare.

It appears to be a case of some poor fellow with his mind gone, who is roaming about through the woods. No depredations have been committed by him, and as he was only seen once, in all likelihood he has moved to some other locality.

This may be the same wild man who was seen in the northern part of the county of Trinity and other counties bordering on Siskiyou.

WOOL IN PLACE OF COTTON

Comforts Filled With the Former Material Are Much Lighter Than Those Generally in Use.

For the last year or two the shops have shown an article of bedding which, though in use in many farm homes, had not been familiar on the counters. This is the wool-filled comfort, that is destined to take the place of the cotton-wadded comforters. Now however, as well as the completed comforts, there are to be had in many shops sheets of carded wool with which to make up these comforts at home, covering them with silk, satin, or patchwork.

The sheet wadding comes in three weights, all having the same dimensions—72 by 84 inches. The lightest contains one pound of wool. It is designed as filling for a crib quilt and to be folded over into half size. The next heavier weighs two pounds, while the heaviest weighs three pounds. Ready-made wool comforts can be bought at various prices, from about $4 according to the thickness of the wool and the quality of the covering.

Many housekeepers now prefer wool-filled comforts to those filled with down, since the wool-filled comforts never "shed" as down puffs will after usage. They are especially desirable for children and for elderly persons, since they are warm but not heavy. A three-pound wool comfort weighs about half as much as a full-sized woolen blanket.

Sateen makes an excellent covering for wool comforts. A flowered center, bordered with a plain color, is especially attractive. It can be knotted with silk or quilted in any fancied pattern.

KEEPS WHIPPED CREAM FIRM

Method That Will Do Away With a Great Deal of the Trouble That Sometimes Bothers Cooks.

Heavy whipped cream, if allowed to stand, is apt to become watery and thin at the bottom of the bowl, the sugar having the tendency to separate in the form of a weak sirup. This is especially true if the cream was not very heavy before being whipped. To remedy this, to every pint of whipped cream soak a scant tablespoonful of granulated gelatin in enough cold water to barely cover it, until it is soft. Then add a small half teaspoonful of boiling water and stir until the gelatin is completely dissolved, after which add three-quarters of a cup of sugar and whatever flavoring you intend to use for the cream. Turn this into a cold bowl and beat with an eggbeater until it is white like marshmallows and begins to become firm, and just as soon as it has reached this point, but before it has commenced to grow stringy, beat it by spoonfuls into the cream, which has already been beaten stiff.

This will increase the bulk of the whipped cream and will not only sweeten and flavor it, but will keep it firm for any length of time. Care must be taken not to use too much gelatin lest it taste of the latter and make a sort of charlotte russe mixture instead of the whipped cream desired.

New Way to Serve Steak.

Perhaps you have grown tired of the usual way steak is served. If so, try this. Buy a good thick one, either sirloin or porterhouse. Season slightly with pepper and salt, and broil until it is moderately brown. Have prepared enough chopped parsley and white onion to cover it. Dot it thickly with dabs of butter and bake in a quick oven for five minutes. The onion, parsley and butter sink into the meat, the parsley absorbing the strong flavor of the onion. Once a steak is served in this manner, the usual fashion of serving it will seem tasteless.

Baked Egg Roll.

Take one pint of finely chopped cold roast beef and add one-half cupful of fine bread crumbs and two beaten eggs, one tablespoonful of melted butter, one-half teaspoonful of onion juice, one scant teaspoonful of mixed parsley, a grating of nutmeg and a dash of white pepper. Mix thoroughly, shape in a roll, wrap in buttered paper and bake half an hour, basting frequently with melted butter and hot water. Serve hot with brown or tomato sauce or slice cold as desired.

Keep Teapot Dry.

When putting away a teapot which will not be used for some time wash and dry it as thoroughly as possible, and then drop into it a lump of sugar. This will absorb any dampness that may be left and so prevent the musty taste which is often noticed in tea made in a pot which has been left unused for some time.

Mashed Potatoes.

Mashed potatoes will be fluffier if one-half teaspoonful of baking powder is added to the milk put into them.

FEARED FRED MIGHT BE COLD

Marine Serving in Haiti Gets Comfortable Made by His Solicitous Grandmother.

Rochester, N. Y.—Fearing the government did not provide sufficiently warm clothing for her favorite grandson serving in the United States marine corps, an elderly lady brought a heavy, handworked comfortable to the local recruiting station of the sea soldiers and requested Sergt. George S. Fynmore to forward it to him.

"Poor Fred may be shivering and shivering with cold just like the soldiers in Europe," she told Fynmore, "and this comfortable will be just the thing. You'll send it to him, won't you?"

Sergeant Fynmore assured the old grandmother that it would be a privilege and a pleasure to do so. But when he forwarded the package to 501st Air Prince, Haiti, where the expedition is now serving, he included a note explaining that the old lady had worked hard in an endeavor to get the comfortable finished in time to come as a Christmas present and that he didn't have the heart to disillusion her about the need for such things in Haiti.

"But," he added in the note, just by way of encouragement, "sometimes when you're serving in Alaska I'll get her to send you a cake of ice."

Crazy Deer Attacks Two.

Roseburg, Ore.—While working about his ranch at Rice Hill, Isadore Rice, an aged resident of that vicinity, was attacked by an infuriated deer. Mr. Rice was knocked to the ground, and only escaped when the animal was beaten into submission by his son. A few days previously the deer attacked Mr. Rice's daughter, but she escaped without serious injury. Mr. Rice was bruised.

Connellsville, Pa.—George F. Strawn, a farmer, has an ear of popcorn which has grains of eight different colors. The ear is about five inches long and all the grains are perfect. The colors are red, green, white, black, blue, purple, yellow and brown. Strawn is curious to know if the corn will be colored after it is popped.
